Edison Will Begin $3 Million Program

Commonwealth Edison Company has announced today it will spend almost $3 million on its 1970 substation construction program in the north and northwest suburbs.

Les Milligan, vice president of Edison's northern division, said the program will be carried out to boost the power capacity available to local residential and industrial customers.

"Transformers with a combined capacity of over 300,000 kilowatts will be installed this winter and spring at various substations throughout the division," Milligan said. "This means that by the summer of 1970 we will have added enough capacity at our substations to serve the equivalent of nearly 225,000 more residential customers."

Milligan said the utility will install 13 huge transformers at existing substations in Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Niles, Northbrook, Palatine, Schaumburg and Skokie.

Two new substations will be placed in service in 1970 in Deerfield and Libertyville.

Courses Set For Policemen

A series of short courses for policemen, perhaps starting in mid-January, is one of the immediate aims of the Lake County Law Enforcement Assistance Planning Committee. The group met last week for progress reports from the various sub-committees.

Waukegan Police Chief John DellaValle discussed the advanced training seminars, suggesting seven areas of instruction. They are: community relations, techniques of search and seizure.

Personal Property Tax Suit Undecided

Lowell Wirth, head of the tax extension department for the Lake County Clerk, told those attending the annual assessors meeting Thursday, Dec. 18, that personal property schedules for 1970 have been ordered in the event that a new law exempting one household of furniture and one automobile is held unconstitutional. Wirth said a court suit testing the exemption law is still pending.

The County Supervisors of Assessments, George Rockenbach, conducted the session. He reviewed several new pieces of legislation enacted by the General Assembly earlier this year affecting taxation procedures.

Speaking of the personal property tax exemption, Rockenbach emphasized that all residents will pay the tax for 1969. Those bills will be sent out next spring. If held constitutional in the pending court case, then individuals

Damage To Court Is $500

Damage to sections of the new Lake County courts building by vandals earlier this month will cost much less than original estimates. Controller Robert Morrison said the cost of repairs will run about $500 and not $5,000 as previously thought.

Morrison said much of the oil base adhesive smeared on wood panels, marble and ceiling in the large ceremonial court room was removed without need of replacement materials. All damages are covered by the contractor's insurance.

Further, Morrison emphasized the tightening of security measures. The contractor has hired an armed guard to patrol the building during those periods when workmen are not present.

The vandalism, believed the work of young juveniles, occurred over the weekend of December 6-7.

Special Meeting On Tap

A special meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 by the Antioch Grade School Board for the purpose of opening bids on equipment for the new upper grade school building now under construction.

At its last meeting the board voted to have school attorney Ted Larson file for tax exemption on the property on Rte. 173 where the new school is being erected.

The board also received a request from representatives of the State Highway Department for an expression on where the corridor should be for the new road—extension of Rte. 83 to the Wisconsin state line—should be.

The board also authorized all funds that have been extended by late safety and fire building programs to be listed under the proper accounts.

Officials contracts of the building program were approved as recommended by the school attorney.

The board studied soil testing reports and expressed dissatisfaction of progress made on the back filling of the foundation by the contractors on Phase I of the project.

Woods Chamber Head

LaVerne Woods, executive vice-president of the First National Bank of Antioch, was named as president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce for next year.

Also elected officers were Ray Scarpelli, secretary-treasurer, Grant Spong, 1st vice president and Hillard Tobieski, second vice president.

The officers were selected at a meeting of the board of directors last Friday.

Members of the board include: Joe Beemsterboer, Doug Olson, John Romer, William Mendrala, Woods, Spong, Jack Fields, Scarpelli and Tobieski.

Retiring from the board this year are Ken Schultz, Henry Pickard and Russell Barnstable.

Health Service Reviewed

A review of purpose and methods highlighted a meeting of the Lake County Health Services Planning Committee on Wednesday, Dec. 17.

Jack I. Smith, M.D., director of the county Health Department and chairman of the committee, discussed the problems of the present system and possible approaches toward solution.

"In addition to the health services and facilities existing in our county," he said, "there are a dozen or more sub-systems that involve manpower, money, poverty, disease, water and air pollution, just to name a few. Also, there are three sub-systems on planning and four popular approaches world wide. These are: a do-nothing attitude; let's wait until conditions are worse; a goal-oriented system change; and total planning by experts."

Dr. Smith said the lack of coordination and guidelines between the public and private sectors is more evident today. "Even the affluent middle class group is having trouble getting adequate medical attention," he said.

One of the first projects of a hired staff will be to conduct a total survey on manpower, facilities, and resources in the medical field in Lake County, Smith told the committee.

Two resolutions adopted by the planning committee last month are under consideration by the County Board's health, education and welfare and finance committees. One asks for authorization of a cost analysis of the public institutions, the other request interim financing for employment of staff help.

Ultimately the Health Services Planning Committee will make recommendations to the County Board on possible policy changes to best meet the health needs of the people.

Voters Approve Junior College Tax Increase

Dick Daniel of the State Bank of Antioch draws out the winning names in the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars drawing. The proceeds go to the VFW Building Fund. Winners were Joseph Prouse, Chicago, snowmobile; Eugene Simonsen, Antioch, snow blower; Fred Gillings, Russell, bowling ball; J. Kriesant, Antioch, clock radio; and V. R. Saez, Great Lakes, portable radio. Turning the crank is Jim Horton, commander of Post No. 4551.

Antioch provided a 51-vote plurality in the successful passage Saturday of the $6.2 million bond issue referendum proposed by the College of Lake County to finance the first and second phases of its permanent building program.

The vote was 4,344 to 3,730 for a 614 majority. Antioch High School District voters cast 373 ballots with 212 of them in favor of the expanded building program, while 161 opposed it.

F. James Lumber, Antioch attorney and chairman of the College of Lake Board of Trustees, expressed appreciation for the passage of the issue, but was disappointed at the small turnout of voters for what he described as an important thing in the history of Lake County.

The bond issue passed despite losing in five of the 15 precincts. Defeat was recorded in three out of four Waukegan precincts—the deficit, totaling 296. The proposal also lost in Zion-Benton and Grant High School Districts.

Heavy and substantial majorities from Grayslake and Libertyville offset the negative Waukegan vote.

The college is expected to move its planning program into full gear with the authorization of the sale of the bonds.

The money from the sale of the bonds is not expected until late summer, but it will not interfere with the college's preparation program.

The college will receive about $12 million in state funds for the permanent building program. In the first allotment is $5,845,000 for the first phase.

The second phase is expected to be more than $6 million, according to Lumber.

Interim facilities currently are being used for the classes held Monday through Saturday. Classes are from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

The enrollment for 'the college is slightly below 2,500 full and part-time students.

The expansion program is expected to cost taxpayers six cents a $100 of assessed valuation. A home, assessed at $10,000 will cost $6, college supporters said in their messages to groups during the campaign.

The college was formed in October 1967 in a referendum.

Abbott Declares Quarterly Dividend

Directors of Abbott Laboratories have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 27½ cents a common share.

The dividend is payable February 15, 1970, to shareholders of record January 28, 1970.

Patient Time Alloted For Thursday Evening

The Lake County Mental Health Center is now providing time Thursday evenings for patients receiving regular treatment, with most full-time and some part-time clinical staff members on duty, according to Thomas N. Davis, M.D., center medical director.

Dr. Davis stated that the evening hours represent an effort on the part of the Center to make its services increasingly available to Lake County citizens, together with the branch services in Libertyville and Antioch and the Saturday hours that have been in effect for some time. The Thursday evening hours are especially helpful to those patients in treatment who would find daytime appointments difficult to keep because of job responsibilities.

The expansion of hours is possible because the Center has had all budgeted positions filled since September. In addition to Dr. Davis, who became the Center's medical director in May after having served as staff psychiatrist for eight months, the clinical staff includes the following:

Psychiatrists: John E. Kystar, M.D., and Leonard Kessler, M.D., staff psychiatrists, and Anthony Pavkovic, M.D., child psychiatrist.

Psychologists: Harry K. Easton, Ph.D., chief; Serafim Romberg, R.A., and John Conneely, M.A., staff psychologists. Psychiatric Social Workers: Mrs. Helen Baldwin, A.C.S.W., chief; Mrs. Eleanor Byrd, A.C.S.W.; Mrs. Linda Garlick, M.S.W.; and Dennis Reiser, A.C.S.W.

The Center was established in 1957 to provide psychiatric diagnostic and treatment services for the emotionally disturbed and mentally ill of all ages. It serves all of Lake County except Highland Park, Deerfield and Bannockburn, which are in the area covered by the Irene Josselyn Clinic in Northfield, and the Barrington area, served by

Product Is New To Market

A new product is being introduced nationwide this week for the first time by a Lake-McHenry county firm.

Called SNO-MUF, this snowmobile accessory is the brain child of a local quartet who have invested their time, talents and money in an interesting venture which seems bound to catch on all over North America.

SNO-MUF is designed to fit over the handlebars and controls of all standard snowmobiles to keep hands warm in coldest weather.

Made of rugged neoprene with a plush pile lining and cuff, it encloses hands, wrists and forearms, yet has ample opening for quick removal in case of spills. Easily mounts or detaches in seconds and adds a finished look to the machine. SNO-MUF sells for $19.95.

Heading up the newly-chartered company, called Cass Industries, Ltd., is Frank Rhode, Jr. of McHenry. His wife Cass (shown on the snowmobile) is listed as vice-president of the firm that bears her name. The other partners are: Charles Ulrich of Mundelein and John Leiter of Gurnee.

Rhode says getting the infant corporation off the ground has been one of the most challenging

Higher Interest Lauded

Richard F. Kennedy and Richard D. Newland, Waukegan, Lake county chairmen for U.S. Savings Bonds, was today queried about the new 5-per-cent interest rate for Savings Bonds.

"The new higher rate was announced by President Nixon makes Savings Bonds a better buy than ever before," Co-chairmen Kennedy and Newland states. "It will greatly benefit the members of our communities who have been putting aside dollars regularly — through payroll savings plans or over-the-counter purchases at their banks — savings for a new home, farm improvements, an automobile, college for the children, a dream vacation, or a retirement nest egg."

The 5-per-cent interest rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H Bonds sold on or after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity. All outstanding E and H Bonds also benefit from the new 5-per-cent rate, beginning with the first semi-annual interest period starting on or after June 1.

Repair 'Gyps' Working

Any time of the year is "open season" for furnace repair gyps artists, warns Northern Illinois Gas Company.

Although most active in the spring and fall, high pressure "heating inspectors" often prey on the unsuspecting homeowners in the winter, too, the utility cautions. Phony repairs and excessive charges are estimated to cost homeowners hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

NI-Gas says the inspectors usually find something wrong with the heating unit and ask permission to tear down the furnace.

Frequently the "inspectors" find that the "unit is not worth replacing" once it is torn down. They then require a down payment, according to the gas company, and normally ask the housewife to sign a contract for a new furnace or various repairs, usually at exorbitant prices.

NI-Gas recommends that homeowners not allow strangers to enter the home without demanding adequate identification. Also, the reliability of a salesman or in-

Christmas

Christmas is here once again.

And with it comes the things that most people hold dear in their hearts—the carols, the spirit that invades most of us.

This is a time for families to feel the warmth of their ties with each other and with their children. And this is the best time of the year to remember that we have each other.

But, through it all, we should not forget the deeper meaning of the Christmas season.

For it was at this time that our Saviour was brought forth onto the earth to take away the burden that each person assumed prior to his coming.

Christmas is a time of giving and receiving. But the giving brings the real warmth to the heart.

There are many unfortunates who will not know the meaning of Christmas because of their circumstances.

And it is for these that we contribute so that the less fortunate than we—especially the children—will not want at least at this time of the year.

We can always find a way to help those who cannot help themselves.

This is the true meaning of Christmas.

A Helpful Booklet

You've received a notice from the state that you must successfully complete an examination before your driver's license can be renewed?

If so, the Illinois State Bar Association advises, you should brush up on your ability to identify traffic signs—on sight and by their shapes—and on your knowledge of traffic laws.

For this purpose, the ISBA notes, the state publishes a 98-page official manual for drivers known as "Rules of the Road." You may obtain a copy, without charge, by writing to the Secretary of State's office in Springfield.

The examination is part of the state's program to retest all licensed drivers every nine years, in accordance with a law which became effective this year.

We think it is a good law.

Even the driver who receives notice that his license will be renewed without re-examination, will be tested later.

The "Rules of the Road" booklet is your secret to success when your re-examination time comes. At least a study of the manual should virtually assure your passing the written portion of the re-examination.

It will also be helpful if you are required to take a road test to demonstrate your driving skills.

fidavit on declaration of age.

Assessors also questioned the handling of a new law dealing with tax exempt property, such as that owned by churches.

House Bill 329, subsequently signed by the governor, says:

"When any real property which for any reason is exempt from taxation or is for any other reason not taxed under the provisions of this Act is leased, loaned, or otherwise made available to and used by a private individual, association or corporation for a use which is not otherwise exempt under the provisions of Section 19, that use is subject to taxation to be paid by the lessee or occupant thereof in the same manner and to the same extent as though the lessee or occupant were the owner of the property.

The taxes shall be assessed to the lessee or occupants of that property and collected in the same manner as herein provided, excepting that such taxes do not become a lien against the exempt real property."

On changes in valuation in townships other than those involved in the quadrennial assessments, Rockenbach said the main reason would be major additions to properties. He said nine of Lake County's townships are scheduled for quadrennial assessments, "and that's a lot of work."

A quadrennial means that once every four years all property in the township is re-assessed, taking into consideration current market values. As land prices increase in a period of appreciation so the tax on the property increases to reflect its higher value.

"It was brought out that all costs connected with staging the seminars would be covered by a grant from the Action Now program. This is an offshoot of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission's program which provides local funding through the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act.

On another related matter, the committee was informed that a final report on a proposed pre-delinquency facility will be presented to the finance committee of the Lake County Board of Supervisors shortly after the first of the year. A request for the facility, to be located at an abandoned Nike site owned by the county, came from the Juvenile Officers Association.

Associate Circuit Court Judge Harry D. Strouse, Jr., chairman of the law enforcement assistance group, says the committee is looking for a full-time director

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends in Antioch,

I would like to express our thanks to the people of Antioch for the very nice Christmas box we received. Your time and thoughts are very much appreciated and meant a lot to us! The enclosed booklet with all the signatures made us realize there are people who think of us and care, this means a lot. We realize the time and effort put into the making of the booklet therefore it even has greater value to us. The Christmas messages and prayers will be remembered by all and all the fine people of Antioch will be in our thoughts!

Yes we are proud of our work here, it is a very rewarding job caring for our wounded boys. It has been a very difficult task for our boys here in Vietnam but they have done a fine job. We have lost many young men and may they never be forgotten!

It does concern us reading in the newspapers about the marchers and demonstrators against the Vietnam war. Those people do not realize what is going on here and do not have the right to make the judgment. This is a small country fighting for freedom and who are we to deny them? These people, especially the young, have never known anything but war and suffering and are entitled to peace and freedom.

I am sitting here now writing this letter, and in the background I can hear the bombs dropping, may we never hear that sound in our country! Our desire would be to have those demonstrators over here then maybe they would realize the freedom they have. Then again we are proud of those Americans that are willing to stand up and be noticed for what they feel is right!

I will bring this short letter to a close now and again thank you. A very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all the people of Antioch!

Sincerely,

Your friends at the

Your Congressman Reports...

By Cong. Robert McClory

This one message came through loud and clear at the recent Inter-parliamentary Union Conference in New Delhi, India: that world order depends upon an America united behind President Nixon's quest for Peace.

Even the most rabid doves among Members of the Parliament of non-aligned India are apprehensive about a precipitate and summary withdrawal of U. S. forces from Vietnam and other parts of the Far East. Members of the Parliaments of Thailand, Burma, South Korea, Indonesia, Japan and other Asiatic countries are nearly unanimous in their prediction that complete withdrawal of American military support from the Far East will bring about their nations' absorption by Communist China. Prime Ministers, Foreign Ministers and other parliamentary leaders with whom this Member of Congress spoke were neither threatening nor demanding. But they spoke with candor and conviction—and from experience.

It was heartening to find general acknowledgment of the need for increased programs of self-help, particularly in the areas of well-trained military ground forces. Political leaders of South Vietnam, Thailand, South Korea and Japan all expressed themselves in support of this part of the Nixon Doctrine. However, they are also relying on the President's assurance that the United States will fulfill its treaty commitments such as SEATO Prime Minister Sato of Japan, who heads the strongest nation economically, in the Far East, was queried by this member as to the impact on Japan of the President's program to reduce our nation's involvement in Asia. Mr. Sato responded emphatically, "I hail President Nixon's program of relations with the Asian nations."

Prime Minister Sato, who is meeting this week with President Nixon, also has a radical and sometimes violent minority with which to contend. But the overwhelming majority of the Japanese, as well as the vast majority of Asians outside of Red China, relish no part of communism. Indeed, they yearn for continued close and peaceful relations with the United States and other nations of the Free World.

President Nixon recognizes the strength of this popular opinion in nations where opinions may be freely expressed. Indeed, a failure on the part of the American people to appreciate this fact would seem to be one of the greatest blunders in our history. Those who are determined NOT to unite behind the President are relying upon highly emotional arguments for the most part. But such arguments should not form the basis for a substantial part of the foreign policy of this nation.

Members of the Parliaments of many European as well as Asian nations with whom this member came in contact recently are concerned about America and its ability to unite behind President Nixon's program for Peace. They are asking whether the American people will heed the fervent appeal of the President when he declared:

"Let us be united for peace. Let us also be united against de-relations with the Asian nations."

Those who are determined NOT to unite behind the President are relying upon highly emotional arguments for the most part. But such arguments should not form the basis for a substantial part of the foreign policy of this nation.

Members of the Parliaments of many European as well as Asian nations with whom this member came in contact recently are concerned about America and its ability to unite behind President Nixon's program for Peace. They are asking whether the American people will heed the fervent appeal of the President when he declared:

"Let us be united for peace. Let us also be united against de-relations with the Asian nations."

Prime Minister Sato, who is meeting this week with President Nixon, also has a radical and sometimes violent minority with which to contend. But the overwhelming majority of the Japanese, as well as the vast majority of Asians outside of Red China, relish no part of communism. Indeed, they yearn for continued close and peaceful relations with the United States and other nations of the Free World.

President Nixon recognizes the strength of this popular opinion in nations where opinions may be freely expressed. Indeed, a failure on the part of the American people to appreciate this fact would seem to be one of the greatest blunders in our history. Those who are determined NOT to unite behind the President are relying upon highly emotional arguments for the most part. But such arguments should not form the basis for a substantial part of the foreign policy of this nation.

Christmas Parties, Parties

Seems like everyone is having Christmas parties at work or at various restaurants all over the area. Elaine Oltedahl received a lovely gift from her fellow employees. It's bound to keep her plenty warm. We're also expecting a book report from Jim Maplethorpe by next Christmas. Santa was present again and had a gift for each and everyone.

Christmas Carolers

A group of ladies from St. Peter's spent Sunday afternoon singing Christmas Carols to shut-ins in the area. One of the recipients chided up singing Silent Night in German with Barbara Madden. Speaking of Christmas Singing, the Antioch Chorales complete with St. Bernard "Dog"? Started out with Glug and ended up at Tony and Lill's for pizza. Hmmm, that sounds very interesting...

On the subject of music many Antioch residents enjoyed the pleasant tones of organ music at a party hosted by the Bob Lubkemens.

The EYO of St. Ignatius Episcopal Church spent several hours Christmas caroling around Antioch and their Sunday School donated the creche in front of the church.

Did you ever ???

I saw a modern version of Santa and his 8 reindeer at a school Christmas program. Little children were the reindeer and what to my wondering eyes should appear but St. Nick in a Shopping Cart.

Snow Shovels Retired

Many of our Antioch friends have put away their snow shovels this year and started their winter trek to Florida where they can use sand shovels in the sunshine state.

Art Display

Have you seen Jackie Horton's art exhibit at the First National Bank? There are lovely paintings of Antioch both past and present.

My Christmas Wish For All

Many happy hours on Christmas.

Enjoy them with your loved ones.

Read a Christmas story to a child.

Ride around the countryside to see the Christmas lights.

Yuletide cheer to all.

Candles glowing - cookies baking.

Heard the Christmas sounds.

Relaxing and spice for gingerbread men.

I cicles-decorating the tree.

Snow, sled, and skis for happy kids.

T-rains, toys and trinkets.

M-outains of happiness.

A-dore Him, Adore Him.

S-o long till next year.

Thailand — And The Treaty

By Charles H. Percy
(During the August Congressional recess, Senator Charles H. Percy of Illinois and his family spent three weeks traveling in Asia. This is the second of four articles by Senator Percy recalling highlights of the tour.)

Somerset Maugham once said of the typical Asian city: "They are all alike, with their straight streets, their arcades, their tramways, their dust, their blinding sun... their dense traffic, their speechless din... They give you nothing. But when you leave them it is with a feeling that you have missed something and you cannot help thinking that they have some secrets that they have kept from you."

My stay in Bangkok corroborates Maugham's observations. Despite the common denominators, Bangkok has a flamboyant, langorous, splendid quality that sets it apart from all other cities in Asia.

A few years ago, I had lunch with Jimmy Thompson at his Bangkok residence, Kong Loos, a fabulous house that contains some of the finest Chinese art objects in the Orient. Shortly after seeing him in Bangkok, he had gone to Malaysia with two friends and while there he disappeared into the jungle and has not been heard from since. There was some talk about his being kidnapped because it was felt if he had been attacked by an animal his remains would have been located.

Following his disappearance, his home has been set up under a foundation as a museum of sorts. The embassy opened Jimmy Thompson's home for us so that we could see it. It is really better than a museum because all of the art pieces are in a more natural setting. I could not help but recall, however, with sadness the pleasant luncheon four years ago when I talked to Jimmy Thompson about his favorite love—Thailand.

The ancestors of Thailand's 35 million people migrated a thousand years ago from Southern China. U.S.-born Bhumbol Adulyadej (King Rama IX), 42, heads a constitutional monarchy. He has been on the throne for 23 years. His daughter, Julie, a sensitive, attractive and brilliant girl, has been my daughter, Gail's classmate at Concord Academy in Massachusetts for the past year and will be going to MIT.

Before our arrival, there had been considerable speculation in Congress regarding the danger of the United States becoming involved in another land war in Asia—this time to defend Thailand. It was thought that the 50,000 American troops in Thailand were somehow committed to its defense through a secret 1965 accord. Responding angrily, Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman had seemingly requested a withdrawal of U.S. forces from Thailand.

The matter was further complicated when Defense Secretary Laird stated that he disapproved of the 1965 U.S.-Thai document as a statement of policy while the State Department maintained that it was a contingency military plan which could not be implemented without the approval of both governments.

Senator William Fulbright refused to visit the Pentagon and see the plan while the Pentagon refused to send the document across the Potomac so that it would be reviewed by members of the Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

It was in this atmosphere that I sent a message to Ambassador Leonard Unger in Thailand that I would like to meet with Foreign Minister Thanat. The Foreign Minister promptly invited the Ambassador and me to a private lunch at the "La Cave" Restaurant at Bangkok's Erawan Hotel.

We discussed the mutual misunderstandings that had arisen over the secret 1965 contingency plan and reports of planned troop withdrawals from Thailand. With some impatience, he noted that most references to U.S. forces in Thailand implied that these forces were there for the defense of Thailand when, in reality, Thailand was merely permitting the United States to base its forces there in order to support the war effort in Vietnam. "We do not want U.S. Military forces defending Thailand directly," he said.

"We do not need them. Any country that is worth its salt, that has had a government serving its people as long as ours has, deserves to fall if it cannot defend itself."

He made it clear that he could not envision North Vietnam invading Thailand through Laos with sufficient strength to succeed. The only means that the Communists could employ would be insurrection and infiltration and Thai forces should be competent to handle this with material and technical assistance.

I expressed concern at the situation and offered to do what I could to help. Specifically, I offered to issue a statement expressing the Foreign Minister's view. My statement said in part: "With respect to the 1965 Contingency Military Plan, the Foreign Minister made it quite clear to me that he did not consider this document a treaty, nor even an agreement as that term is generally used. It bound neither government to any commitment of any kind without the expressed and subsequent concurrence of each government. What it does represent is the best planning that could be done at the time."

In a small way, I suppose, the statement helped defuse a potential strain between allies. So a senatorial lunch in Bangkok turned out to be more than just a visit.

Skidding Dangerous For Driver

The Lake County Safety Commission reminds you that driving under winter conditions over slippery roads, often with reduced visibility, requires plenty of skill. A good policy to follow is "easy does it." Any sudden application of brakes or steering is likely to cause or accelerate a skid.

Adjust your speed to road conditions and avoid sudden starts or stops. Look ahead so that when a traffic situation requires slowing down or turning, you can do it gradually.

Steering control must be applied smoothly. Forces tending to throw your vehicle into a skid are introduced when you steer into a turn. All vehicles when on a curved section of road are more sensitive to overpowering, oversteering, and overbraking.

Slight distance on a curve is often reduced and unseen hazards around the bend call for caution. Pavement markings may be covered with snow. Keep well to the right side of the road.

Steering instantly in the same direction that the rear wheels are skidding provides a counter action to head the vehicle back on course. Steer just enough to correct the skid. Don't overdo it.

The Safety Commission says the three things to remember in preventing skids are: Adjust your driving to road conditions; anticipate your steering movements; and slow down sooner.

Ford Grant Will Aid New Group

A new national information center on local government is being organized through the National Association of Counties by a grant from the Ford Foundation.

Frank J. Nustra, Lake County Recorder of Deeds, attended a two-day session in Washington, D.C. Nov. 21-22 during which details of the center were established. Nustra is first vice president and president-elect of the National Association of County Records and Clerks.

The NACO board of directors named a supervisor of the information center and a national advisory committee. Illinois Governor Richard Ogilvie was among those appointed to the committee, along with other governors, mayors, and representatives of chambers of commerce. President Nixon designated Vice President Spiro Agnew to be liaison with

Edison Sets Screen News Digest Film

For the fifth straight year Commonwealth Edison Company will present Screen News Digest, an award-winning film series based on current news events, to some 300,000 Chicago and elementary and high school students.

Les Milligan, vice president of Edison's northern division, said the films will be presented as a public service at about 100 schools locally.

"Screen News Digest has been honored three times by the Freedoms Foundation for its outstanding contribution to a better understanding of the American way of life," Milligan said. "In making this film series available here, our company hopes it will give students in our service area an opportunity to expand their learning horizons by witnessing history as it is happening."

Based on headline news, the nine films in the series will be presented one a month throughout the school year. The films will be seen at about 500 public and parochial schools in Edison's service area.

The first issue being released this month is entitled "A Walk on the Moon—Dr. Goddard and His Dream." The color film includes such highlights as the flight to the moon, the lunar landing and the behind-the-scenes research of Dr. Goddard and his associates that launched the Space Age.

Home movies made by Dr. Goddard in the 1930's enliven the film. Another personal aspect of the film is a sequence in which Mrs. Goddard describes that moment in 1926 when Dr. Goddard fired the world's first liquid propellant rocket and headed America toward its rendezvous on the moon.

state and local governments. Mr. Agnew will serve as honorary chairman of the advisory committee.

When fully operative, the information center will be in a position to furnish local governments with up-to-date material on systems, governmental structures, products, services, etc. based upon proven experience.

NACO is preparing a booklet explaining the center and associated committees in detail, which should be available to local governmental bodies within sixty to ninety days.

Nustra says he views the information center as a valuable asset to public officials everywhere, since there is no such clearing house at present.

The Ford Foundation grant stipulated that the monies donated be used for county modernization and NACO officers believe the center concept will be a valuable tool in assisting local government attain that goal.

Records Save Tax Dollars

As tax-planning time for 1969 approaches, remember that Uncle Sam wants only what is due him—no more.

It takes complete and accurate farm business records to avoid unnecessary tax payment, say Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County Extension Adviser. Many farmers pay more income tax than is required because they lack good farm expense and income records and depreciation schedules.

Many aids to keeping good records are available in your own county, Nicholas adds.

One such aid is a farm record book prepared by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and available from the Lake County Extension Office.

In addition, Nicholas points out, several record-keeping services using electronic data processing are available to Illinois farmers. Some include regular visits by a fieldman and provide excellent farm-record analysis and business-management advice.

Complete, accurate farm records don't come easy, but they pay off at tax time, Nicholas says.

Forgetting even a very small expenditure may put you in a higher tax bracket and mean paying additional income tax, he adds. For example, if a farmer with an adjusted gross income of $4,151 had kept a record of the $1.25 flashlight he purchased for his truck, his income tax would have been $7.00 less.

Mental Health...

public officials, physicians have all been recognized in the eight years since the awards were instituted. The Lake County Humane Society and the Antioch Mental Health Auxiliary have received awards as organizations, both for their unusual efforts to ensure the continued operation of the Lake County Mental Health Center.

Mrs. M. E. Amstutz, chairman for the meeting and dinner, emphasized that an appropriate nominee may be prominent in community life, but is often one who makes his contribution to mental health in the course of his daily activities. Whether he is well-known or not, the qualifications established in 1962 call for an award winner to be one who is himself emotionally healthy, who shows interest in and compassion for those with whom he comes in contact, and who demonstrates his concern for the mental health of the community by working to improve the conditions that breed emotional problems.

Nominations should be made in writing to Awards Committee, Lake County Mental Health Society, 201 Liberty Street, Waukegan, Illinois 60085.

Others serving with Mrs. Amstutz on the Annual Meeting Committee are: The Rev. Herbert J. Armstrong, Lake Zurich; The Rev. John S. Brooks, Jr., Lake Forest; Mr. Wadell Brooks, Sr., North Chicago; Mrs. Alex J. Busch, Round Lake Park; Dr. Edward E. DeLong, Waukegan; Mrs. Gust F. Thursday, December 11

The women of the Moose enjoyed their Christmas party. The dinner was pot luck and everyone had luck because it was a feast. Everyone exchanged gifts, and the gifts were anywhere from nice to unusual.

The Social Service Committee's Jolly Rogers party was a success for everyone that attended. Games were played and many prizes were won. The door prize was won by roving reporter Fran Boxley. It's a beautiful breakfast set for two. Christmas corsages were won by co-worker Dorothy Pulg and treasurer Marjorie Hartman.

A special welcome to our new member this month of Dec. Patricia Metz from Antioch.

Thursday, December 18

Regular monthly business meeting held at Moose home. There were four birthday marchers for the month of December. The marchers were Junior Graduate Regent Shirley Gehrls, and co-workers Jerri Polson and Millie Stroner and treasurer Marjorie Hartman. The Christmas centerpiece that the manager from Floral Acres made and gave to the Library Committee was won by Collegian Geraldine Mark. Senior Regent and officers extend wishes to everyone for a Merry Christmas.

Saturday, December 20

The Loyal Order Officers and Women officers from Antioch went house judging.

The homes in and around Antioch township are beautifully decorated, we saw nativity scenes, Christmas trees, Santa with reindeer and sleigh or alone, candles, carolers and fantasies with lights.

Touring with two cars, first to Grass Lake, then to Channel Lake, back to Antioch, then to Cross Lake and Oakwood Knolls. Then more of Antioch and a visit to Lake Shangrila and then to Loon Lake and finally back to Moose home for a decision.

Here are the winners with a description of the scenery.

First prize—home of Mr. Hilliard Telinski in Channel Lake. A marvelous imagination and a lot of labor with handwork. A nativity scene that's fantastic to see. Santa's workshop that seems to be alive and a setting with a small chapel.

Second prize—Loon Lake Pet Shop, for the home of Mr. L. Rumsta—a nativity scene that's unbelievable and a wondrous display with lights. Everyone should see this.

Third and last prize—Home of Frank ReCupido in Grass Lake. Another beautiful nativity scene, with a hand made crib that takes four days of labor. A balcony scene with Santa. And life size figures all over the lawn and buildings.

We can't give everyone a prize so here's honorable mention for the home of Mr. Victor Sherman in Channel Lake, also homes in Oakwood Knolls and all around Antioch.

If anyone wants some holiday spirit. Take your family and tour Antioch after dark. Its there with this beautiful display of Christmas scenery.

Sunday, December 21

You should have seen the group of boys and girls that came for the Christmas party at the Moose home. The cutest little darlings ever. Christmas cartoons were shown and the children watched with much interest, because they were waiting for a visit from Santa. When that finally came, the children could hardly control themselves. Santa gave each child a gift and a Christmas stocking.

A big thank you to Santa's helpers. Loyal Order members, officers Jerry Stoxen and for the clowns who entertained the boys and girls Ed Kurtz and Buster Schumann. The women helpers officer Ann Stickler and co-workers Jackie Schmidt, Patricia Serwa and Shirley Rentsch.

However the big hand clapping goes to the Loyal Order and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grewe who organize the feather party every year—to make money for this party and other children's parties throughout the year.

BROWNIE NEWS

Brownie Troop 126 and their leader, Mrs. Hedy Nauer, enjoyed an afternoon of seeing how ceramics are made and then painting them for themselves.

Last Wednesday after school Mrs. Hilda Huntington invited the troop to her home, where she showed them how she pours the molds, bakes them and then paints them. Knowing the girls wouldn't have time to complete a figurine in one afternoon, she made several ahead of time and then let the girls choose the one they wanted and then supplied them with the paint to color them. While they dried, she served the girls refreshments. The Brownies sang the "Hello" and Brownie "Smile Song" for her.

On Nov. 15, the girls visited Slove's Country Charm Bakery, where Baker John Slove showed the girls how he makes rye bread and decorated a cake for them. He served them cookies and milk and gave them the cake to take back with them to enjoy later.

Festival A Success At Barat

LAKE FOREST — The excitement generated by the One-Act Festival held recently at Barat College's Woodcutters' Hut was reflected in the enthusiasm of the judges. One of the judges, Dr. Edwin Miller of Loyola University put it this way, "This was a very exciting festival. There were a number of excellent first plays. On the final night when we returned after more than an hour of deliberation, almost all of the students' and outside audience which had jammed the Hut for the two nights of performances were still there, waiting to hear the results."

When they finished deliberating the nine judges gave the following awards: Best play, "The Rest is Silence" by Audrie Neenan; Runner-up, "From the Halls of Monkey Zoo, Ma" by Lexie Romanski; Honorable Mention, "The Last Stop" by Julie York.

The Best Director Award was also won by Audrie Neenan for her direction of "Halls of Monkey Zoo, Ma"; Runner-up for Best Director was Betty McEnery for "The Last Stop"; Bea Toomey won Honorable Mention for her direction of "Sandbox" and "Faded."

The Actor Awards went as follows: Best Actor, Lanette Meloy; Runner-up, Audrie Neenan; Honorable Mention, Peter Mugerichian.

'The Toy Box' Is December Production

LAKE FOREST — "The Toy Box", a children's play by John Dennis, Barat College playwright in residence, has been chosen as the December production by the Chicago Hull House Playwright's Theater.

Bonnie Adams, a Barat sophomore theater major will direct the production which will open on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 20 and 21 at 2:30 p.m. and run for four consecutive weekends at the 222 North Avenue Theater.

Assisting Miss Adams will be sophomore Bernice Bartczak also a theater major.

The play is a modern fantasy that deals with a girl named Sally who finds a giant box of toys. She climbs inside and can't get out. The giraffe, teddy bear, soldier, lady doll and little girl doll befriend her but the grouchy seated king is not so kind.

Troubles multiply when a boy named Ask climbs into the box to retrieve a lost ball. After a most unusual duel—using poetry—there is a surprise ending.

"A tax cut is the kindest cut of all," stated Robert C. Tyson, Finance Committee Chairman of U.S. Steel. He then continued: "I believe that . . . the most important long-range tax reform for the general well-being of both the public and private sectors (of the economy) is tax reduction . . . no one is ever normally impelled to earn or produce anything by the knowledge that the fruits of his labor will be taxed away from him."

Mr. Tyson further stated, "a man may . . . produce in spite of, but never because of, taxes."

NI-Gas Seeks To Acquire New Utility

Marvin Chandler, Chairman of Northern Illinois Gas Company, and J. Harris Ward, Chairman of Commonwealth-Edison Company, announced today that they have begun negotiations on the possible acquisition by Northern Illinois Gas Company of Mid-Illinois Gas Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Edison which provides gas service to about 100,000 customers in and around Rockford and Lincoln, Illinois in areas adjacent to the service territory of Northern Illinois Gas Company.

Edison acquired the property in December, 1968 by merger with Central Illinois Electric and Gas Company. The Federal Power Commission, in approving that merger, ordered Edison to show, not later than December 1, 1969, why it should continue to own and operate such properties.

On November 26, 1969 Edison reported to the FPC that, after the termination of its affiliation discussions with Central Illinois Light Company, it was negotiating for the possible divestment of its gas operations.

Don't Pump That Pedal In Winter

Resist the tendency to pump the gas pedal when starting your car, counsels the Chicago Motor Club-AAA, which offers these tips for getting underway in cold weather:

—Before turning the ignition key, turn off all accessories you might have left on the last time the car was driven—radio, heater fan, defroster, windshield wipers.

—Turn the key and depress the accelerator all the way down once—just once—and let it up half way. Don't grind the starter more than 30 seconds. Make repeated attempts, allowing 30 to 45 seconds between tries.

—If the carburetor floods—often you can smell raw gasoline when it does—shut off the ignition, push the gas pedal to the floor and hold it there for a full minute. Then, with the pedal still on the floor, turn the starter. This procedure allows any excess gasoline to drain through the manifold. Enough fuel usually remains to give you a proper start.

—Warm your engine at an idle. Never race a cold engine, because rapid action of internal parts before lubricants are flowing will put severe wear on the parts.

But, says the motor club, even these recommended techniques may not work if your car is not kept tuned and your battery is not properly charged.

A good battery is, of course, essential for winter driving and should be thoroughly checked often. According to the manufacturers, a new, fully-charged battery has only 60 per cent of its power at 32 degrees, 46 per cent at zero and only 30 per cent at 20 degrees below zero.

NI Gas Awards $15 Million Bond Issue

Northern Illinois Gas Co. has awarded a $15 million 25-year 9 per cent first mortgage bond issue to an underwriting group headed by Blyth & Co., Inc., Equitable Securities, Morton & Co., Inc., and Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. The price to the company was 100.37.

Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas chairman, said this represents a cost to the company of 8.916 per cent, exclusive of expenses. The bonds will be publicly offered at 102, to yield 8.80 per cent. The new issue will have a maturity date of December 1, 1994, and for the first five years will be non-refundable with debt having a lower interest cost.

Net proceeds of this sale will be used to repay outstanding short-term loans incurred in financing NI-Gas' 1969 utility construction program of about $50 million.

CLC Courses Approved By IJC Board

The College of Lake County has received notice that one and two-year courses in chemical technology, architectural drafting technology, and practical nursing have been approved by the Illinois Junior College Board and the Board of Higher Education. The courses were previously offered by Waukegan Township High School before the opening of the College in September.

All career courses now offered at CLC have received the approval of the two State boards. Earlier approval was given to courses in data processing, secretarial science, clerk-typist, accounting, mid-management, real estate, insurance, electronics, electrical technology, associate degree nursing, and mechanical technology.

James Seltz, Assistant Dean for Career Programs, stated, "With the approval of the State agencies, the College is eligible for Federal funds to offset 60 per cent of the cost of equipment for approved career programs. In addition, the College will also receive reimbursement from the State for instructional costs."

"Just as important," continued Mr. Seltz, "is the fact that this approval assures the College of Lake County and its students that the College satisfies the standards for quality programs as established by the Board of Vocational Education and the Illinois Junior College Board." The College will receive federal funds to offset the cost of equipment for approved career programs.

and Mrs. Chauncey Borland of Chicago; the other donation of 2.5 acres, contiguous to Lakewood Preserve near Wauconda, came from Richard E. Welch of Highland Park.

In other action, commissioners approved a $2,085 contract for heating the outdoor education building, maintenance shop, and office at Lakewood. The sole bidder was Midwest Furnace of Lake Bluff, and passed a resolution to spend $1800 for an aerial survey and topographic mapping of Spring Bluff Preserve. Abrams Aerial Survey Corp. of Lansing, Michigan will do the work.

Commissioners also passed an ordinance providing for a mileage allowance increase of from 10 cents to 15 cents per mile in connection with forest preserve district business.

There was considerable discussion over a proposal to make the large Butler building at Lakewood available to the County Board for museum purposes. Though the measure was approved, no expenditures of funds was involved. It is expected that a formal request for use of the building will be forthcoming from the board.

The Center receives some support through contractual agreements with the Special Services Department of Waukegan School District 61 and the Lake County Health Department. Voluntary contributions through membership in the Lake County Mental Health Society, Inc. are an important part of the local financial support.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS-6

Antioch Whips Bears, 92-85

Friday evening, the Antioch Sequoits traveled to Lake Zurich for their fourth conference game and the last one of year 1969. The Sequoits were highly successful, as they beat Lake Zurich 92-85.

With their fast break working effectively, the Sequoits moved out to a quick 18 to 9 lead early in the first quarter. But this was short lived, as the Bears bounced back with 10 straight points. The team exchanged baskets as the quarter ended, with the Lake Zurich Bears holding the edge 23 to 21.

As the second quarter began, the two teams continued to exchange baskets till the 4 minute mark in the quarter. At this point Jeff Sterbenz scored seven straight points, four on two rebound baskets and another two points on a great driving lay up. He was fouled and also made the free throw. This gave the Sequoits a 41 to 33 lead. With 13 second left in the quarter, Marty Romaine hit a short jumper to finish the scoring for the first half. The offensive rebounding of Sterbenz was superb, the offensive punch of the whole team was great as the Sequoits scored 29 points during the quarter. Sterbenz and Romaine lead the scoring during the first half with 18 and 10 points respectively.

At the start of the third quarter the Sequoits started out like a tribe of Sequoia Warriors, as they hit the Bears 11 quick points to take a 61 to 42 lead with 5 minutes remaining in the quarter. The defense by the Sequoits continued to improve during the quarter, as they contained the Bears with some superb rebounding by Bolton, Tom Martin and Sterbenz. The fine inside offensive play of Sterbenz and the outside hitting of Romaine continued during the quarter, and as the quarter ended, the Sequoits were still ahead by 17 points 70 to 53. All was not safe for the Antioch squad, as regulars, Steve Bentel and Keith Bolton had fouled out and Sterbenz had four fouls.

Jim Polley and Jim Weiss replaced the regulars and did an outstanding job filling in for them. Weiss was great on defense and "Moose" helped to jam the middle and scored a couple of key baskets in the fourth quarter. (one a beautiful hook shot.) With Sterbenz in foul trouble, Bolton and Bentel fouled out, the Sequoits rebounding was falling off, so the team went more to a controlled type game. Off the offensive pattern Romaine hit three baskets and a pair of free throws to give the Sequoits an 80 to 61 lead with 5:22 left in the game. At this point, the Bears rallied with Ford and Black leading the way. They closed the gap to six points twice 86 to 80 and 88 to 82, but there was less than a minute to play and the Sequoits cashed in at the free throw line, hitting 5 of 7 the last minute of play. Romaine lead the way, scoring 13 points in the quarter.

Commenting on the game coach Andrews stated, "it was a great win for the team. Going into the vacation break with a 3-1 record in conference puts us in a fine spot in the conference race. Lake Zurich jammed Keith during the game, but they forgot about Sterbenz and Romaine. With Marty hitting on the outside and Keith and Jeff inside, it works out real well for us. Also both Tom Martin and Steve Bentel are starting to pick up on their offensive punch too, so it looks like we are on the right road now. Our change in defense began to work in the 4th when we were hurt with the fouls. In conclusion the Sequoits mentor stated, "bring on Grant Jan. 2, we are ready. For them, help the squad out by filling the gym to a standing room

Sheldon Sparks Defense

Bill Sheldon from Lake Villa was a vital part of the highly touted Kings Point defense from his halfback position.

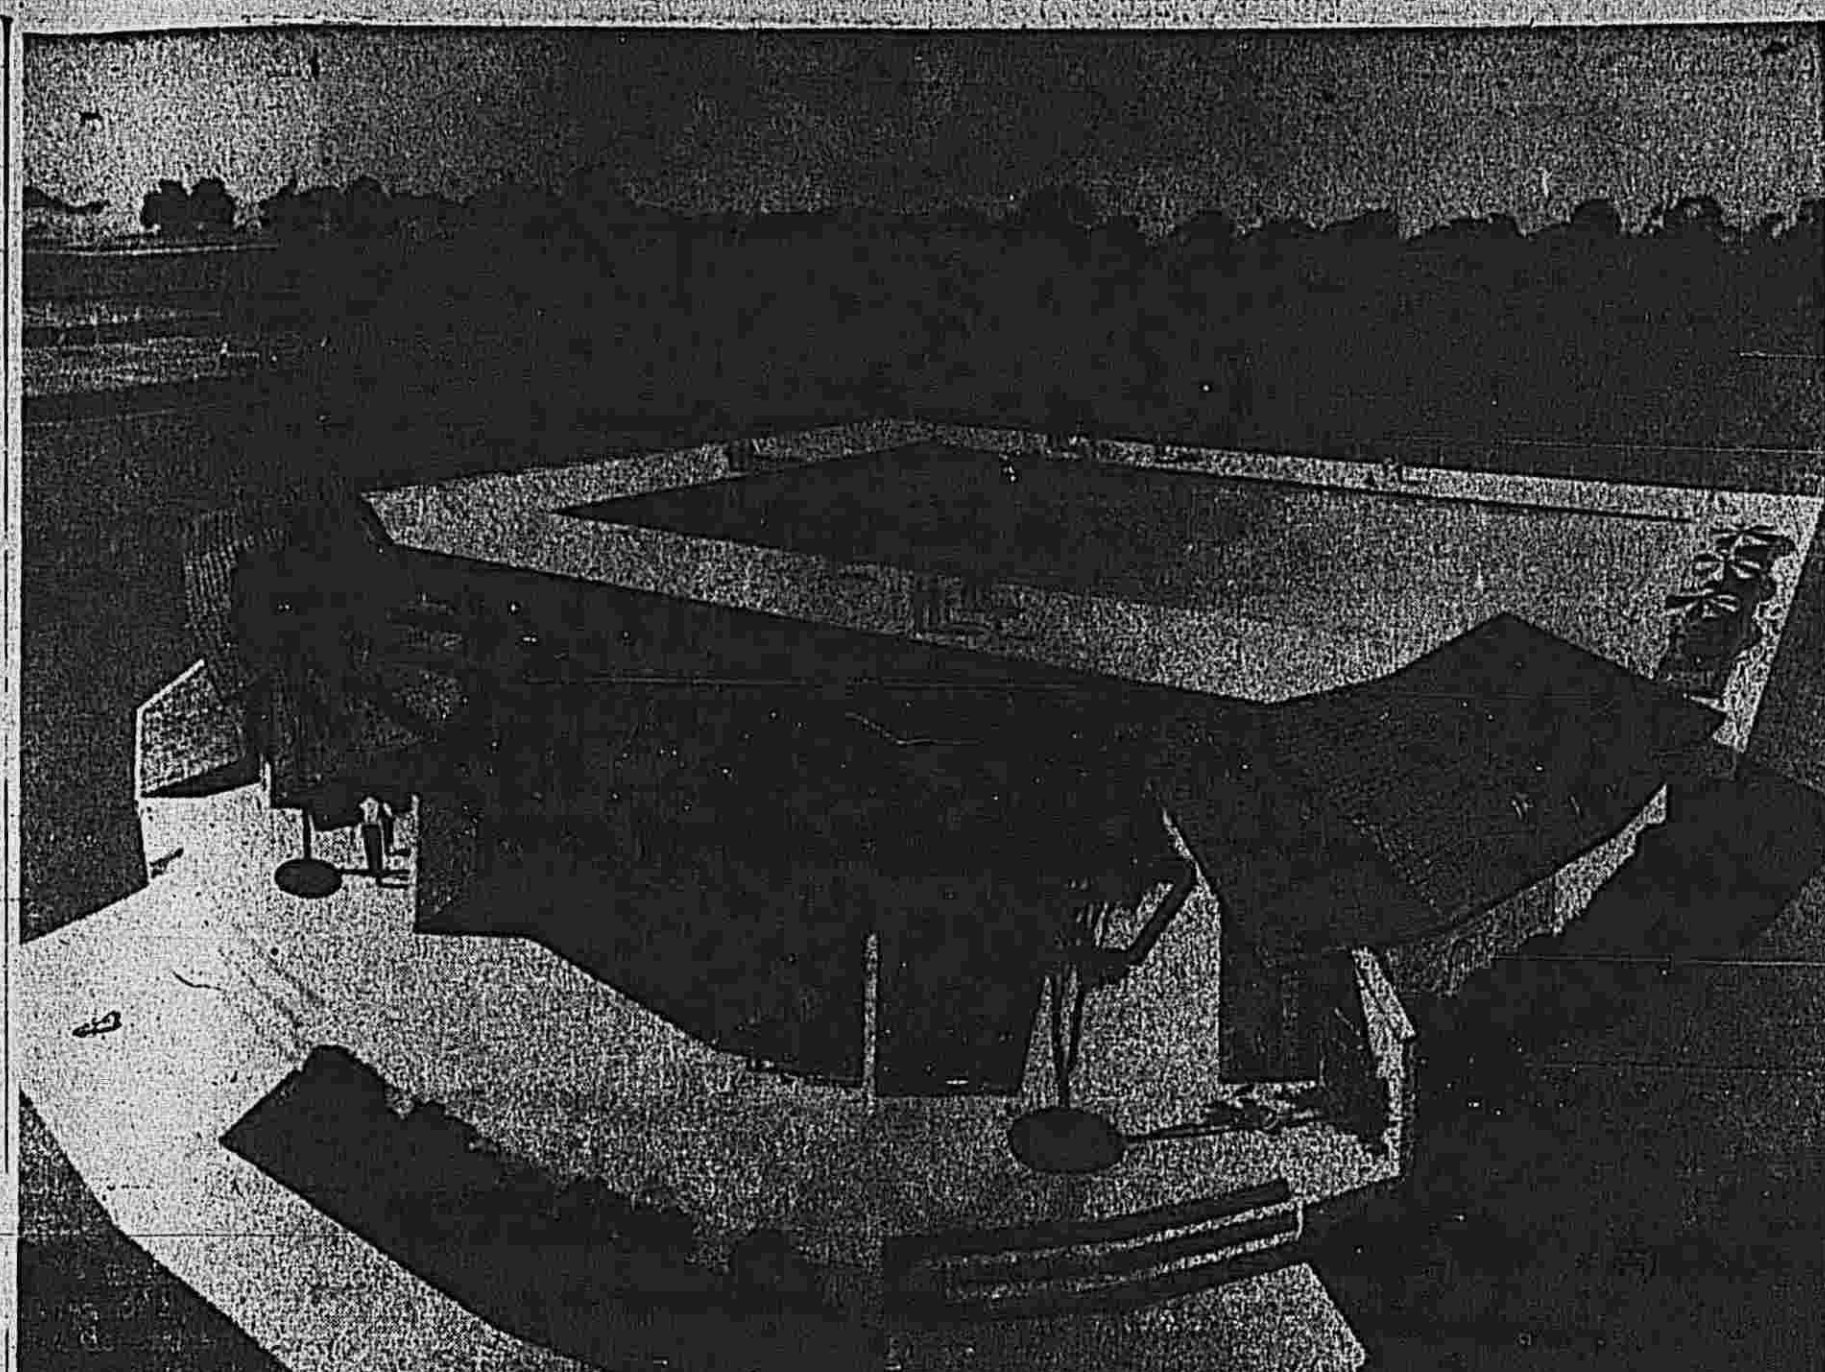

Bill was a big reason why the mariner defense was ranked 3rd overall in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Association. In the Drexel game Bill intercepted 3 passes and returned one for a score. For his efforts that week Bill was voted E.C.N.C. defensive back of the week.

The Kings Point varsity football team was voted the best in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, Division III. For the 1969 season the Mariners posted an overall 7-2 record and were presented the Lambert Bowl during ceremonies at the Essex Hotel in New York City Dec. 12.

only crowd." Also, "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all Sequoia fans—thanks for attending the high school athletic events during the year 1969—see you in 1970."

Leading rebounders in the game were Sterbenz with 15, Tom Martin with 12 and Bolton with 9. Top scorer for the game and a career high was Romaine with 29 points and Sterbenz with 26 points. Lee Ford lead Lake Zurich with 26 points and 11 rebounds. The Sequoits out rebounded the Bears 45 to 27, a big reason for the Sequoia victory, plus the fine defensive play of Jim Weiss and Tom Martin.

endeavors he has ever undertaken. He, Ullrich and Leiter worked for weeks, often staying up until the wee hours of the morning, ironing out details. This involved researching patents, trade marks and other legal ramifications, costs of raw materials, manufacturing, marketing, and a host of seemingly minor yet important considerations.

"Initial dealer response right in the Lake County area has been an encouragement," Rhode said. "We took a pair around to a few places just to see what kind of reaction we'd get and it has been nothing less than enthusiastic. With the launching of our national campaign this week we're anxious, to say the least, to sample public acceptance. We think we have a unique product here that really meets a common need."

The Cass team itself has been carrying the burden of responsibilities with the fledgling enterprise, and they realize that with national and Canadian advertising the real work is yet to come.

The only regret openly expressed is that they all wish the product could have been thought out and refined sooner. They laugh when looking back at last summer saying, "You know, July was a heck of a time to come up with an idea like this. But then inventions can happen anytime."

poet, scholar has collected data on angels

If you want to get to know angels better (without resorting to the obvious) you should seek out a "Dictionary of Angels" that deals with the heavenly creatures. As a matter of fact, all are not so heavenly, since the author has catalogued more than 300 demons, seraphim, avatars and others dwelling in the spirit world.

According to this expert, a typical angel is winged, male, immortal and speaks Hebrew.

Their main job is to serve the Creator, but they have also been known to serve Man by acting as "guardians, counselors, guides, judges, interpreters, dragomen, cooks, matchmakers and gravediggers." Who among us doesn't have an angel of some type he communes with from time to time?

Most of the denizens are not connected with the Bible. There is Gavreel, who keeps people from "going crazy in the night," and Mammon, a fallen angel who serves as a "horrible example" to us weak mortals.

According to George Bernard Shaw, "In heaven, an angel is nobody in particular." Which only supports the premise that there are occasions and situations where you can have too much of a good thing...

The magi? They were wise men, as you know, who brought gifts to the Babe in the manger. Being wise, their gifts were no doubt rooted in wisdom; possibly their gifts bore the privilege of exchange.

I HEARD THE BELLS ON CHRISTMAS...

*I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old, familiar carols play, and wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, good will to men!
I thought how, as the day had come
The belfries of all Christendom
Had rolled along
The unbroken song
Of peace on earth, good will to men!
And in despair I bowed my head:
"There is no peace on earth," I said,
"For hate is strong
And mocks the song
Of peace on earth, good will to men."
Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead; nor doth He sleep!
The wrong shall fail
The right prevail,
With peace on earth, good will to men!"*

the Medieval ceremony of the 'royal peacock'

An elegant meat dish served in royal houses during Medieval times at Christmas, was the roast peacock! This dish was called "food for lovers and meat for lords."

A royal dish it was, too. The cooks carefully removed the skin with all its brilliant plumage. After it had been baked and partly cooked, the feathers were replaced and the tail spread out just before the bearer entered the hall.

This was never a servant; it was the most distinguished or most charming lady present... followed by the ladies of the court, and accompanied by players of the lute, viol or cithern.

Rejoice and be merry!

"Whosoever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas and the like, either by forbearing labor, feasting, or any other way upon such account as aforesaid, every such person so offending shall pay for each offense five shillings as a fine to the country."

Law passed by the Pilgrims in 1659.

MOST FAMOUS CHRISTMAS CRIB IN BASILICA, ROME

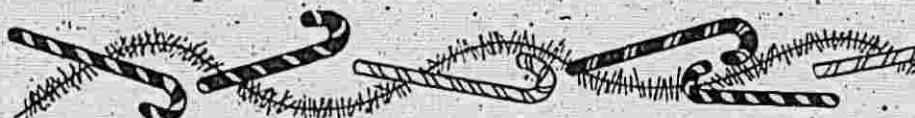

What is said to be "the most famous Christmas Crib in the world" is on view in the Basilica of Saints Cosmas and Damian, near the Coliseum in Rome. This presepe, truly a work of art and the only one of its kind, was created in Naples over 200 years ago. A certain S. Cataldo-Perricelli and his wife, who had inherited the Crib from ancestors, presented the scene to the Third Order Regular of St. Francis.

This unique display is 45 feet long, 21 feet wide, and 27 feet high, and contains hundreds of wooden, hand-carved figurines. They are the work of several artists of the 17th century, and portray various phases of Neapolitan life of that period.

The blue sky is alight with stars, the moon, a comet, and several angels hover. One is waking a shepherd who has fallen asleep near his flock. In the background are hills, valleys, the river Jordan, and lighted villages. On the balcony of his palace is Herod, pointing out to the Magi the way to the manger in Bethlehem.

The surrounding scenes portray life as it must have been in Naples over two centuries ago.

The most important part of the Crib is, naturally, the Holy Family. The Magi are dressed in colorful Oriental garments, and kneel before the holy Infant, offering Him rich gifts.

Festival of Lights Reflects Old Traditions

the true Jewish Hanukkah candelabrum has nine arms.

The Puritan Government banned the celebration of Christmas in England in 1643.

Since the dawn of recorded history man has observed that there is a period during the year when "the days begin to lengthen and the cold begins to strengthen."

It is the Winter solstice when the sun began to rise over the world with renewed vigor and power for fertility, after a period of low ebb.

The people of the North considered the sun as a wheel which alternately threw its glow upon the earth and away from it. This sun wheel was known as "hweol" and perhaps this is the origin of our word "yule."

To the Jews this period was the Festival of Lights or Dedication, called Hanukkah. According to their history, in 165 B.C. a force of Maccabees met and vanquished an army of Syrians. Judas Maccabeus entered Jerusalem with his army and found it desolate and in ruins. He began the work of purification; on the 25th day of Kislev it was finished and a sacred light was lighted.

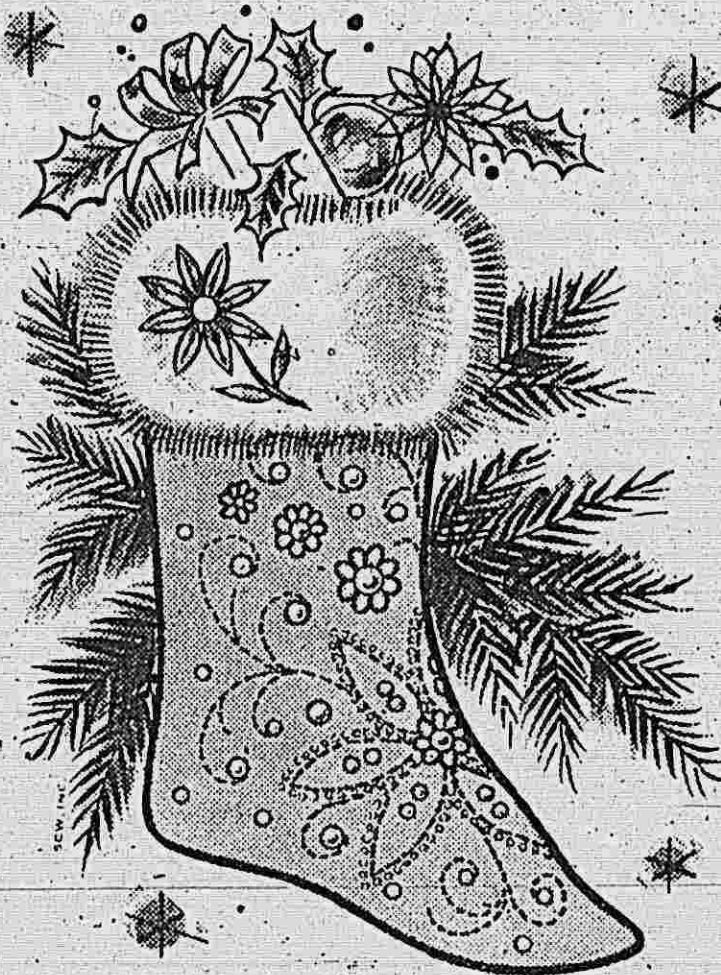

In their destruction of the temple the sacred oil was almost depleted. However they did find a jar which they estimated would burn for one day. Miraculously, it burned for 8 days. Therefore every year the Jews decree that the 8 days prior to December 25 be celebrated.

The first night two tapers are lighted. One is called the torch. The second night a third candle is added and so on for each night until the 8th day. This explains why

Animals, Bees & Birds Play Important Parts at Christmas

One legend tells us that the barnyard animals show their adoration of the Child by falling on their knees just at midnight on Christmas Eve.

When the American Indians learned of the Baby Jesus, quite naturally they believed that the deer knelt at midnight on Christmas Eve.

The people of Norway honor all animals, even fish, at Yuletide. Cattle, birds, fish are assured of safety during the time which is known as the Peace of Christmas. No snares are set during this period. The farmers feed their cattle salt from a cow-bell in the belief that they would be able to find their way home at night.

In old Italy on Christmas Eve a curious ceremony often took place in the farmer's barn. The farmer and his shepherd would carry lighted candles into every corner of the animals' shelter, holding the tapers high so that light was shed into every dark corner.

In Scandinavian literature there is a story of Jesus as a boy, helping His playmates to make clay birds. When he had finished modeling his bird, He would clap his hands and the bird would take wing and fly off into the skies.

Even the bee has his niche in Christmas lore. In England long ago it was believed that the bees sang to the Christ Child at midnight on Christmas Eve. Some beekeepers still place a bit of holly on the beehives at Christmas.

Rather than be caught up in the many meaningless chores of Christmas, why not let some of them go undone and concentrate your efforts on the true meaning of Christmas. You'll find you've created a warm feeling of family closeness and love. When Christmas morning comes, you'll be able to meet it with a new joy in having found the way to express the real meaning of the Lord's feast.

15th Century Xmas Prayer

And go to Mary and make covenant with her, to keep her child, not for her need but for thine. And take to thee the sweet child and sweetly swathe it in his cradle with sweet love bands. Put from thee the cradle of self love and draw to thee the cradle of true love, for that liketh this child to rest him in, and so in thy soul sing lovelike and say:

Lovely little child, fairest of hue, have mercy on me, sweet Jesu.

And the while thou singest, be sorry and think how oft thou hast received thy God and laid him in a foul common stable to all the seven deadly sins... and seldom fully cleansed to God's liking; therefore oft sigh and sorrow and shrive thee to God as thou rockest the cradle, and sing and say:

Lovely little Child.

Legend of Poinsettia Has Origin in Mexico

Many legends of the Christmas season are concerned with children. This one is about a little boy who wanted to give something worthy to the Christ child.

In a town in Mexico it was the custom for the people to take gifts to the church on Christmas Eve and offer them to the little Christ.

The boy, having nothing to offer, stood outside the church, dejectedly.

But, he thought to himself, at least I can pray. And so he knelt down outside the window where he could hear the organ music.

When he rose again to his feet he saw in the spot where he had knelt a beautiful plant with scarlet leaves and a yellow flower in the center.

Dumbstruck, yet realizing he was witnessing a miracle, he gently plucked the stalk and took it, full of wonder, into the church to lay on the altar.

The Mexicans called the plant "The Flower of the Holy Night."

Years later an American Ambassador to Mexico, Dr. Poinsett, took the plant to the United States. Thus, the name "poinsettia." Ironically we do not know the name of the little boy who experienced the miracle.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round and about them: and they were sore afraid.

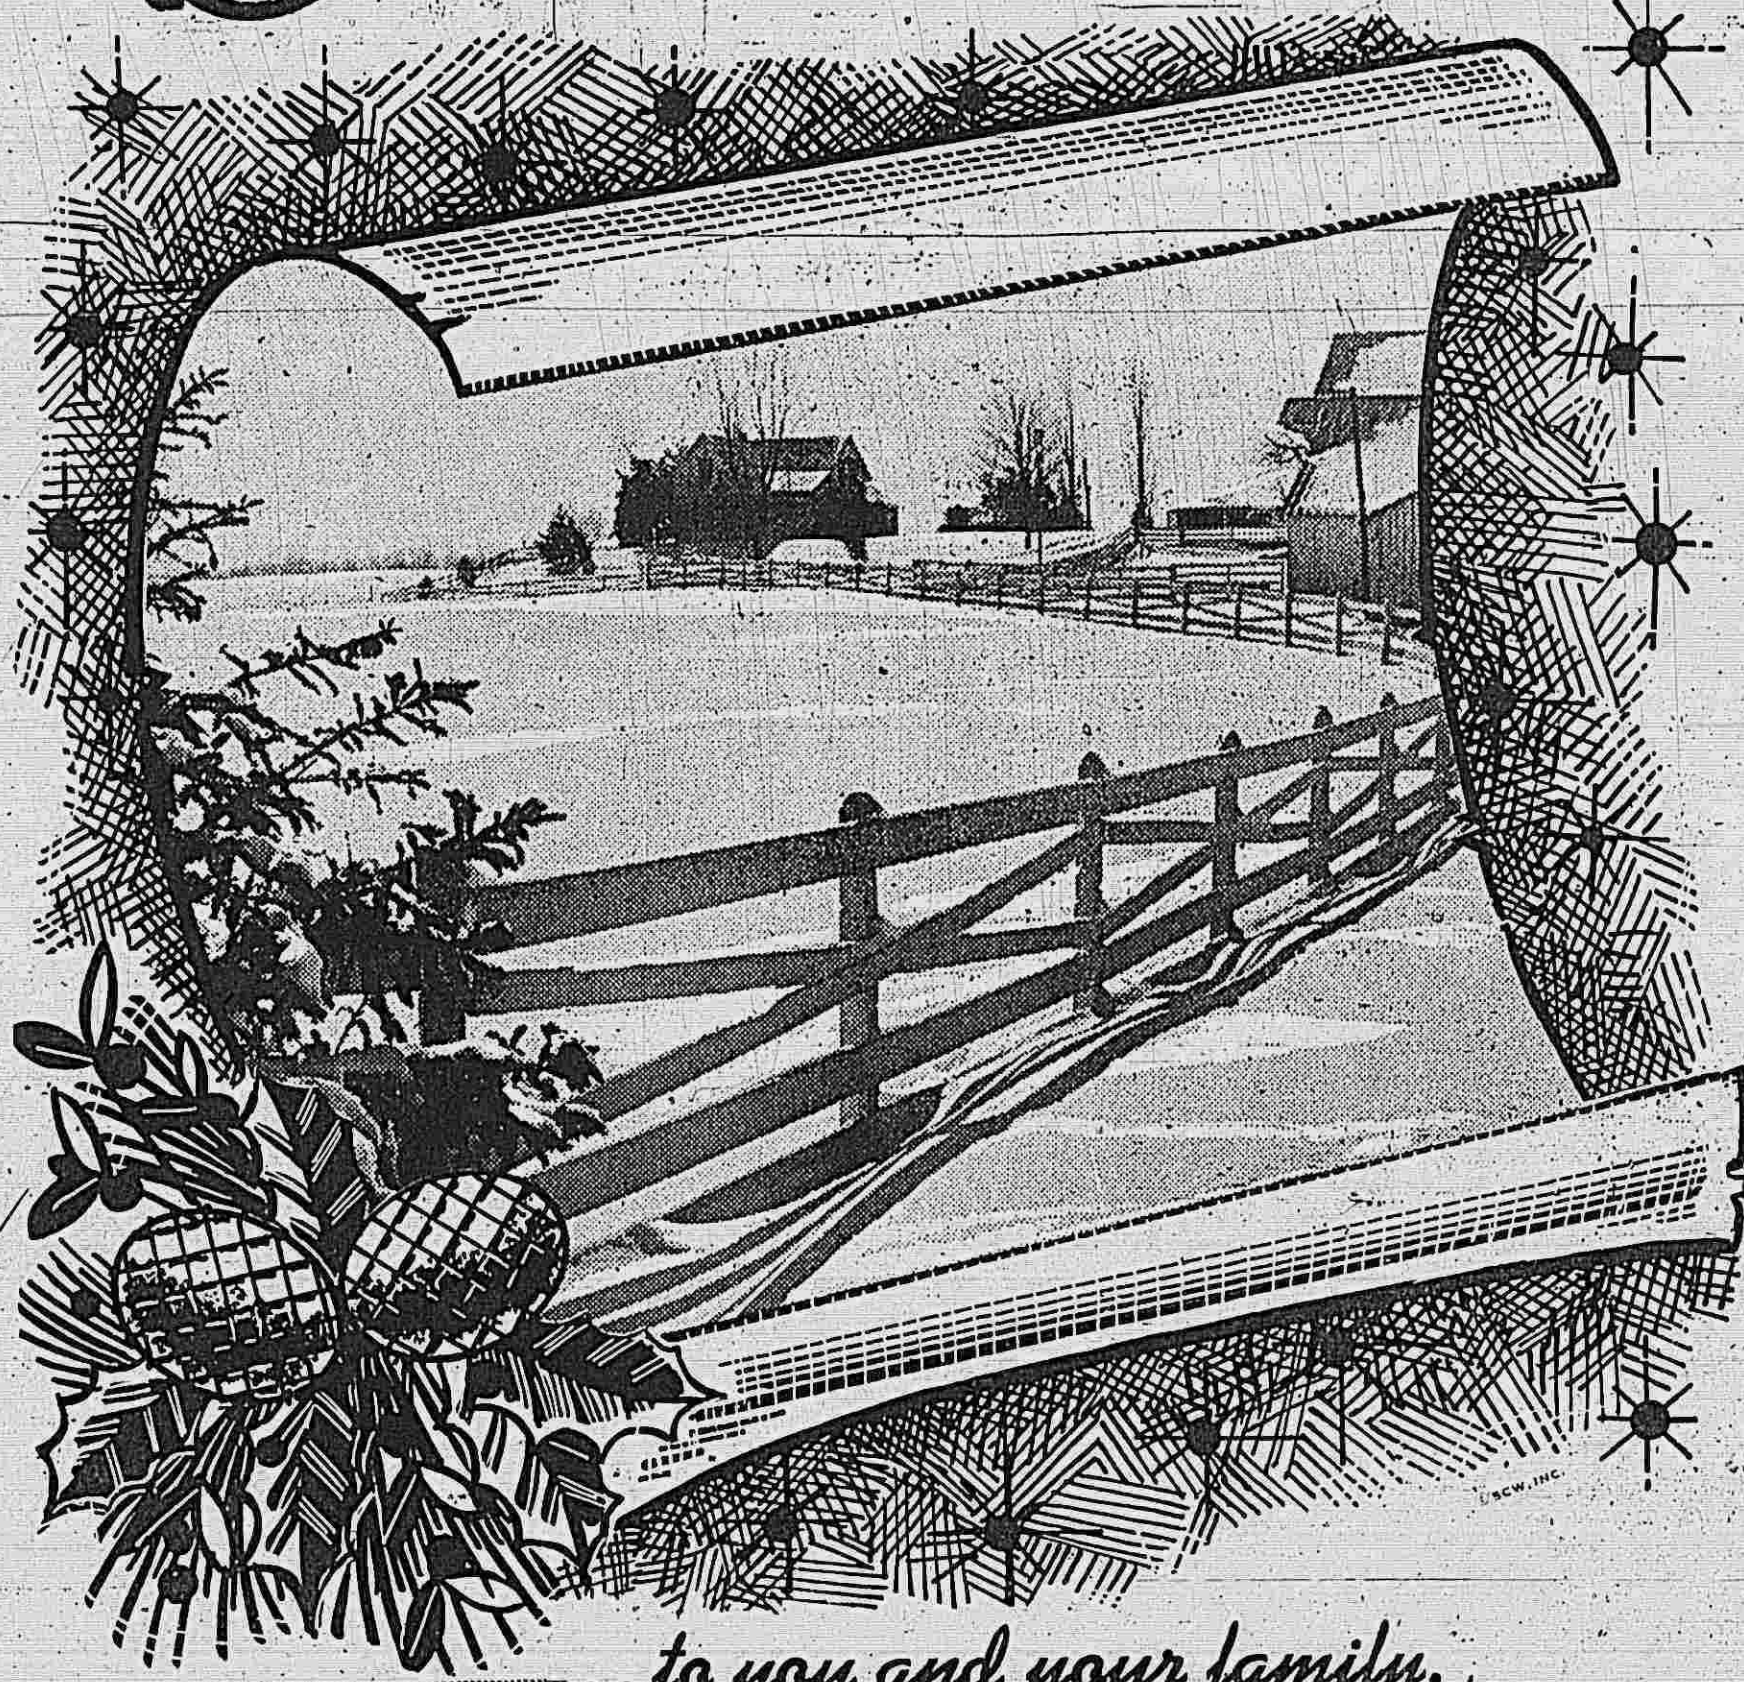

— Luke 11, 8 and 9

It is said that one who sits under a pine tree on Christmas Eve will hear angels singing.

If the sun shines through fruit trees on Christmas Day, it is a sign that the trees will bear much fruit.

A white Christmas presages a prosperous year.

Best Wishes

... to you and your family.
May the beauty of the season be reflected in the hearts of all men.

Dickens Story: Mr. Pickwick's Christmas...

by CHARLES DICKENS

It was a very pleasant thing to see Mr. Pickwick in the centre of the group, now pulled this way, and then that, and first kissed on the chin and then on the nose, and then on the spectacles, and to hear the peals of laughter which were raised on every side; but it was a still more pleasant thing to see Mr. Pickwick blinded shortly afterwards with a silk-handkerchief, falling up against the wall, and scrambling into corners, and going through all the mysteries of blindman's buff, with the utmost relish for the game, until at last he caught one of the poor relations; and then had to evade the blind-man himself, which he did with a nimbleness and agility that elicited the admiration and applause of all beholders.

The poor relations caught just the people whom they thought would like it; and when the game flagged, got caught themselves. When they were all tired of blindman's buff, there was a great game of snap-dragon, and when fingers enough were burned with that, and the raisins gone, they sat down by the huge fire of blazing logs to a substantial supper, and a mighty bowl of was-sail, something smaller than an ordinary wash-house copper, in which the hot apples were hissing and bubbling with a rich look, and a jolly sound, that were perfectly irresistible. Up flew the bright sparks in myriads as the logs were stirred, and the deep red blaze sent forth a rich glow, that penetrated into the furthest corner of room, and cast its cheerful tint on every face.

DID YOU KNOW...?

Did you know that the first Christmas stocking was first hung in either France or Belgium!

Did you know that mistletoe was used centuries ago to ward off witches and now it is used to lure a kiss!

Did you know that the first Christmas tree erected in a church in U.S., in 1851 shocked its Cleveland congregation. It was considered too heathenish!

FUN-LOVING KING RESTORES TREE TO YULE STATUS

Ironically it was the "merry monarch," Charles II, that much-maligned king of England, whose licentious adventures were the scandal of 17th century Europe who actually caused the Christmas tree's return into English life.

It is said that the Roundheads, who beheaded his father Charles I, had banished the tree as part of the Devil's work, but on Cromwell's demise and the return of the royalists, the fun-loving monarch restored this picturesque custom, much to the joy of the English-speaking world.

'Xmas' Spelling Is Traced to Greek Symbol of the Cross

"Christmas" sometimes is written "Xmas."

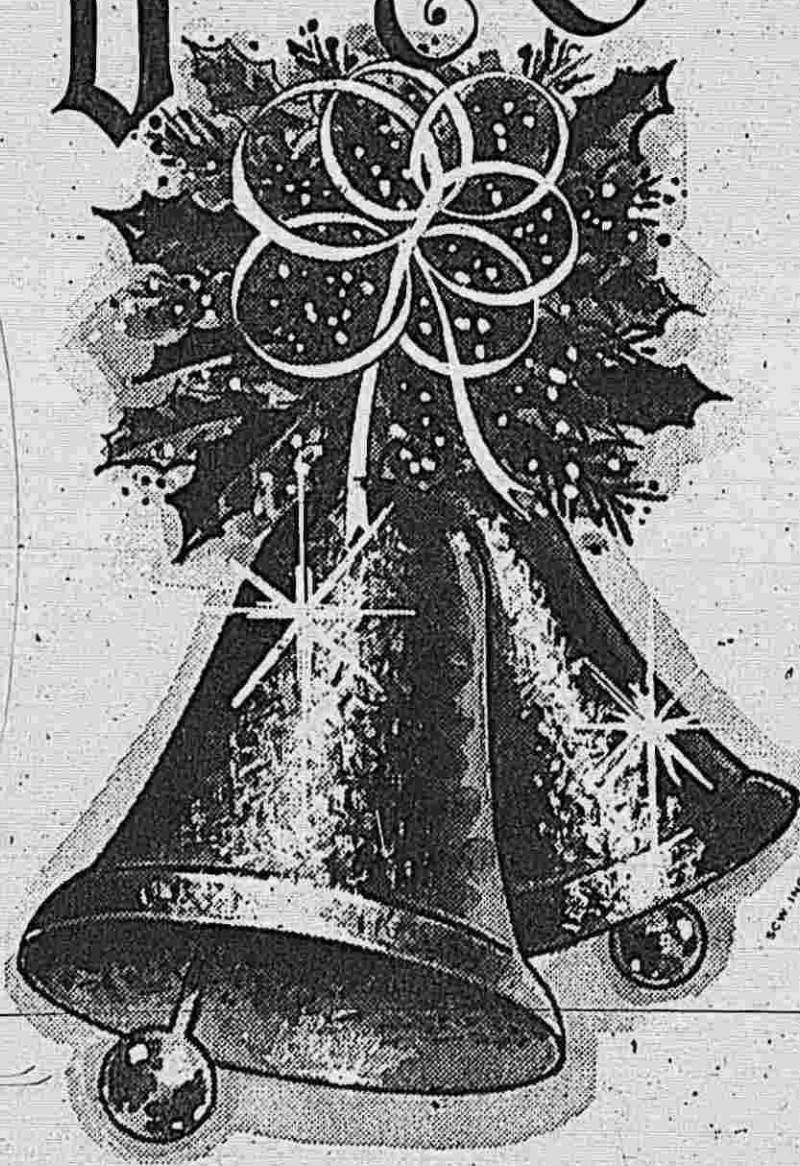

"X" is the Greek letter symbol that is used to represent the name, "Christ."

This symbol has been discovered by many archaeological expeditions on the walls of early-Christian period catacombs.

Not long ago, a group of scientists discovered the name of Jesus, carved before 70 A.D., among the inscriptions on eleven early-Christian urns, uncovered in a cave on the Bethlehem to Jerusalem Road.

RESOLUTIONS ARE MADE TO BE KEPT

Don't go through the motions of making New Year's resolutions unless you have serious intent of making them work. In fact, according to psychologists, you may be doing your psyche harm by experiencing another defeat. You'd be better off not making resolutions at all.

One expert suggests we make resolutions aimed at self-improvement, rather than promising to do things which would require a sharp change in our habits or activities.

Here is a 4-point guideline:

1. Never let pressure of a calendar date or friends' well-meaning nudges cause you to make a resolution.

2. Stop and take inventory of your problems. (Oh, yes, you have them). Try to trace the source of the trouble, not merely the symptom. If necessary, get professional advice.

3. When you have located the source of the problem, find out how important a change is to you. Do you really want to effect this change? Would you really work at it? If you cannot honestly say "yes" to both these questions, you probably won't achieve the change.

4. Don't set too high standards for yourself. Keep your goals reasonable. Keep in mind that many mental problems as well as lost resolutions are due to your making unreasonable, unattainable demands on yourself.

matter of Christmas decorations and festivities. The Pope felt that some of the emerging customs were too pagan in origin, as indeed, many were.

The church gradually accepted and blessed the practice of decorating both the church buildings and the Christian home with plants and flowers on the feast of the Nativity.

Pope Gregory I (604 A.D.) in a letter to St. Augustine of Canterbury advised him to permit, and even to encourage, popular customs he reflected, which in themselves were not pagan but natural; and could be given Christmas interpretation. It is a matter of spirit and individual intent, he indicated.

Customs in Denmark, Sweden and Bulgaria

Small metal trumpets that often trim Christmas trees began with a Danish custom. They used to play four hymns on them at Yule — symbolizing the four corners of the world.

In Swedish art, St. Lucia is sometimes pictured wearing candles in her hair. Her feast day, December 13, is a forerunner of Christmas.

In Bulgaria on Christmas Eve each peasant takes a lighted candle to the barn to awaken each animal, saying: "The Child is born and blesses you to-night."

Members of every family carry lighted candles on the way to church. Picture the winking, silvery streams of light threading their ways through the hills and valleys!

We have mentioned only a few of the customs which have prevailed in the European countries. Many of these customs are reflected in American Christmas celebrations. Also as befits a new country, it developed its own candle customs: ... these deserve an article all its own.

Melodious church bells conclude the celebrations of Christmas Day, ringing throughout the land until the last stroke of the clock chimes farewell to the Holiday.

classic favorite Christmas story: The Gift of the Magi retold...

adapted from the famous story by O. Henry

In the early years of the 20th century, twenty dollars a week was considered quite a decent salary. A furnished flat could be had at eight dollars a week. Even so, a dollar and eighty-seven cents seems a very paltry sum, especially to a young wife desperately facing a forlorn Christmas, just a day away.

For Della Young it was enough to drive her to tears; she so wanted to buy a gift for her young husband, Jimmy, and the prospect was, to say the least, bleak.

You see, Della could not compromise with the occasion. Only something "fine and rare and sterling" would do, for her Jim.

Suddenly, amidst her tears, she was struck by a thought. Standing before the mirror her eyes shone brilliantly but her face suddenly lost its color. She pulled down her hair and let it fall to its full length.

It was a gorgeous sight. In fact Della's hair was one of the two possessions the Jim Youngs took a mighty pride in... the other was Jim's gold watch that had been his father's and his grandmother's.

And now Della's beautiful hair fell about her shoulders rippling and shining like a cascade of brown waters. It reached below her knee. The thought that had penetrated her mind was too horrid for her to contemplate. She did it up again quickly. A tear dropped on the worn red carpet.

But the thought persisted. With grim determination she put on her old brown jacket, jammed her old brown hat on her head, and with a whirl of skirts sailed out the door and down the steps to the street.

In a few minutes she stopped at a hair goods shop, presided over by a Mme. Sofronie. The madame was hard and cold, but she knew a fine head of hair when she saw it. She named her price: twenty dollars.

Della accepted it quickly, and raced off to ransack the stores before they closed. She had to find Jim that perfect gift.

She found it: a platinum fob chain exquisitely simple, eminently worthy of Jim and the Watch. Twenty one dollars it cost her, but Della was ecstatically happy. She was warmed by the thought of how Jim would be able to properly inquire about the time among his peers, now that he would have such a fine chain.

When she got home she heated the curling irons and frizzled the remaining thatch of hair hoping thereby to make the cropping less noticeable.

Alas! When Jim came home and looked at her, he was as if struck dumb. Not furious, not disappointed, but somehow in a state of shock.

"Jim, dear," pleaded Della, "don't look at me that way. I had to do it! I couldn't find you the right gift with the little money I had. 'And' (brightening)... 'my hair grows fast! Say Merry Christmas, and let's be happy.'"

Out of his trance Jim seemed to wake. He enfolded his Della. Then he drew a package out of his coat pocket and set it on the table.

"Take a look, Della... then you'll see why you had me going at first."

She quickly tore open the package. There were the Combs, the set of combs, pure tortoise shell, with jewelled rims, that she had craved for months without the least hope of possession. And now the tresses they should have adorned were gone!

But she hugged them to her bosom and managed to say, again, "My hair grows so fast, Jim! You'll see!"

Jim had not seen his present. She held it out to him eagerly. The precious metal seemed to flash with a reflection of her own ardent spirit.

"Give me your watch, Jim," she said. "I want to see how it looks."

Jim tumbled down on the couch and a flickering smile wandered around his mouth.

"Dell," he said with a sigh,

"let's put our Christmas presents away for a while. Look, honey, I sold the watch to get the money to buy your combs. And now suppose you put the chops on."

Perhaps these two young people were, after all, the wisest. They are the magi.

'miracle' of the pine cone

Legend has it that a pine tree sheltered the Christ Child during the flight of the Holy Family from Herod's soldiers. As the family huddled 'neath the tree, the pine dipped its branches to hide them—until the soldiers passed on.

And, when the danger was over, the baby Jesus blessed the tree... If you will cut a pine cone lengthwise at Christmastime, you will see the imprint of the Holy Infant's hand.

Origin of Carols

In 1859, Dr. John Henry Hopkins, Jr., an Episcopal rector, composed the words and music for "We Three Kings of Bethlehem Are."

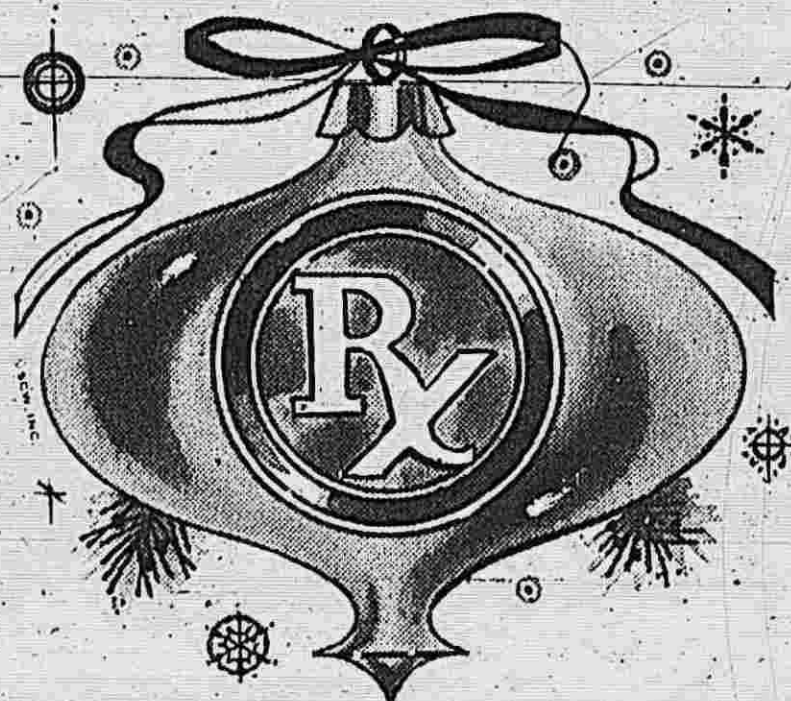

"O, Little Town of Bethlehem" was inspired by a trip to the Holy Land. It was composed in 1868 by Phillip Brooks, an Episcopal minister. The music was written by Lewis H. Redner, organist of Brooks' church.

It is curious that one of the best-known carols, Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol", written in 1843, is to be read, not sung.

Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: For thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

Yule Customs Date Back to Fourth Century Recalling Man's Good Deeds

Why do children hang up a stocking?

The first St. Nick was a real person, Nicholas, a bishop in Asia Minor in the Fourth Century.

According to legend the bishop heard of a poor man who was about to sell his 3 daughters into slavery because he could not provide a dowry for them; this was not only customary in those days, but obligatory, to avoid disgrace.

St. Nicholas saved them by gifts of gold. Each time, he threw the gift into the house, in order not to be recognized.

One version tells it that he threw the gold down the chimney, where it fell into a stocking hung there to dry.

And so to this day children hang up their stockings for gifts from this real Saint.

Why are mince pies and plum pudding traditional as desserts?

Mince pie has been traditional for as long as history records. It is usually full of spices and fruits, representing the exotic treasures of the East, the home of the Wise Men. Originally it was made in a loaf shape, to simulate the manger.

Plum pudding, to the contrary, signifies the humbler virtues. Legend has it that in the early days of England a king and his men were lost in the forest on Christmas Eve.

Not having provided for this delay in their journey, the cook threw everything he had to make one dish for all... thus the plum pudding! We're just guessing, but we are sure plums have had some good reason to be part of the name.

Country's Freedom: Christmas Gift, Too

The foundation for the preservation of the freedom to celebrate such Christian beliefs as Christmas — this was the gift to our country on that very day in December 1776.

It happened when George Washington and his men won the battle at Trenton, Pa. That was the beginning of a long line of victories that eventually led to ultimate victory and total independence.

Holly, Traditional To Christmas

Holly has long been considered the most sacred of Christmas greens; and the red berries are said to represent the blood of Jesus.

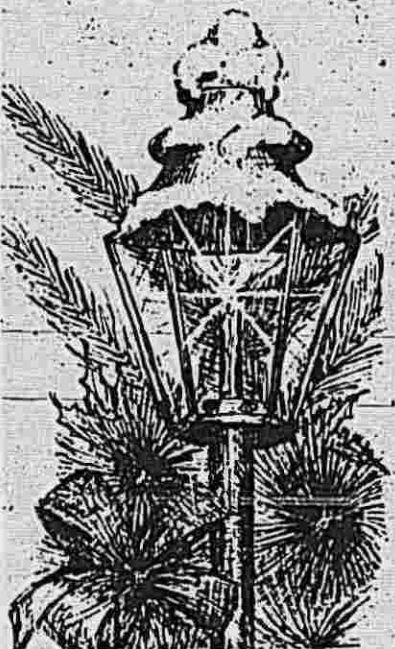

"Of all the trees that are in the wood, only the holly bears the crown!"

A display of holly was long a sign of Christian worship.

Folklore has it that holly in the window will keep evil spirits away from the house, and holly at a maiden's bedside, on Christmas Eve, will protect her from goblins!

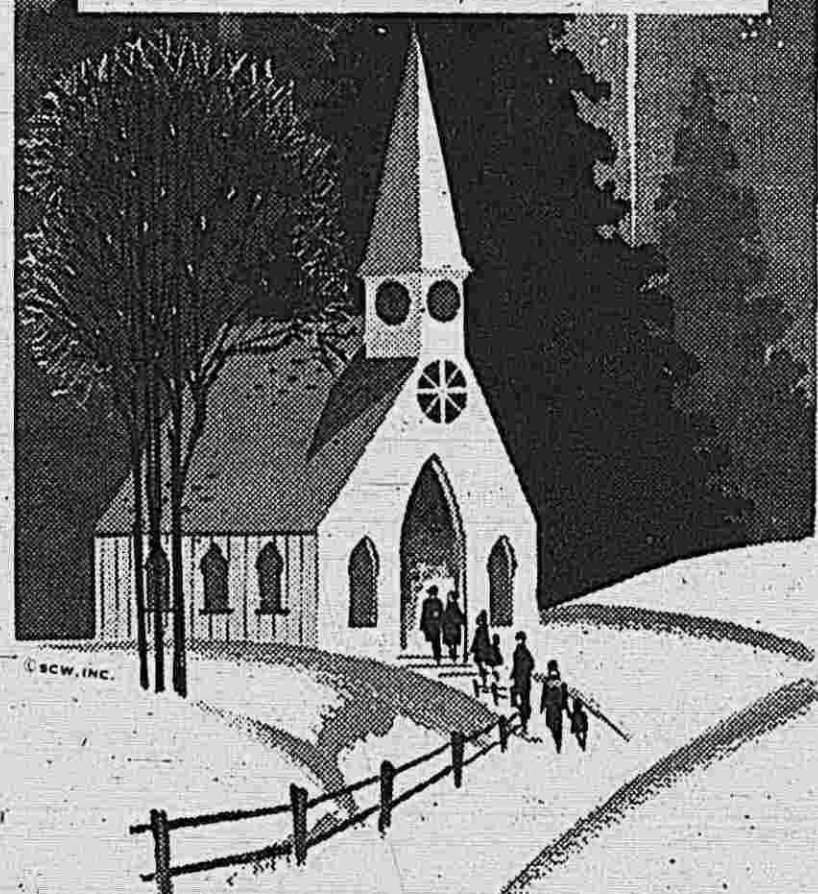

Candles have long been a part of Christmas. In medieval days, yule candles, like yule logs, were of tremendous size. Holes were chiseled in the stone floors to act as holders, and Christmas dinner lasted as long as the candles burned.

FIX UP OLD TOYS, TREAT YOUNGSTERS IN HOSPITALS

When all is said and done, there is no gift quite as wonderful as giving of yourself. For whatever reason the Creator may have, when we give our energies, our hearts to something or someone else, we share the joys perhaps to greater degree than the recipient.

This Christmas plan to bring a little happiness to the less fortunate, not by means of a check (though that is very welcome, too) but by means of personal involvement.

If you have children perhaps you have some old but still serviceable toys you could "bring back to life" with a little paint, a screw or bolt here or there or some minor repair. It can be a great source of pleasure to a little fellow in the hospital, orphanage or in a home where Dad is missing or not employed.

Perhaps your town has organized groups which coordinate such activity. You will enjoy it even more if you participate with a group.

When painting toys to be used by children, it is most important to use non-toxic enamels or paints. Never use paint designed for outside use.

Keep in mind that children enjoy strong, bold colors, as well as the glossiness of enamel.

For small objects self-spraying enamels in aerosol cans are the easiest to use. If more than one color is to be applied, protect other areas with masking tape.

WILLIAM PENN'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO THE AMERICAN RED INDIANS, 1682

On a day towards the end of 1682 (we) made a Treaty of Amity with the American Red Indians: (We) carried no weapons; (they) were fully armed. (I) addressed them as follows: "The Great Spirit who made me and you, who rules the heavens and earth, and knows the innermost thoughts of men, knows that I and my friends have a hearty desire to live in peace and friendship with you, and to serve you to the uttermost of our power. It is not our custom to use hostile weapons against our fellow-creatures, for which reason we have come unarmed. Our object is not to do injury, and thus provoke the Great Spirit, but to do good: We are met on the broad pathway of good faith and good will, so that no advantage is to be taken on either side, but all is to be openness, brotherhood, and love."

BELLS HAVE SPECIAL MAGIC AT CHRISTMAS

Medieval people considered bells almost living beings. They were dedicated before being hung and the dedication was almost like a baptism. During the ceremony prayers were offered that the sound of the bell might summon the faithful, stimulate devotion, drive away storms and banish evil spirits. One document of days long ago comments: "in those dark chambers, high above the turmoil and strife of human life, dwelt the apostles of peace, whose salutations were never so welcome as at the time of the great Winter feasts of Christmas."

The novelist Victor Hugo calls the ringing of the bells "the opera of the Steeples."

Bells come in all shapes and sizes. Their moods span the ages . . . from the rattle of the African chieftain to the sweet-toned church bells.

Bells were originated according to legend by Bishop Paulinus, in Nola, in Campania, in the fifth century.

From his town and district are derived the name Campanula, the Latin for bell.

in these days of internal strife these words apply as well today as they did in the 17th century

BENEDICTION

Almighty God our heavenly Father, Who makest us glad with the yearly remembrance of the birth of Thine only son Jesus Christ, grant that we may joyfully receive Him for our Redeemer, and evermore be blessed with His saving light, His saving love, and His saving power: May Thy blessings rest upon us and upon all our work and worship done in His name; help us to glorify Thy holy name and worthily serve our beloved country; and may the spirit of Christ, reigning in the hearts of men everywhere, bring peace to men of good will. AMEN.

Old Wives' Tales Woven Around the Christmas Season Are Favorites

Superstition has long colored our concept of history and particularly its religious tenets. Frequently in countries where literature and the arts flourish, so do "old wives' tales," for good or ill.

In Scotland some people believe that to be born on Christmas is to have the power to see spirits and even to command them. According to Sir Walter Scott the Spaniards attributed the haggard looks of Philip II to the terrible visions he was able to see because he had been born on Christmas.

By contrast, in Silesia a baby born on Christmas will become either a lawyer or a thief.

English mothers used to take sick babies to the door Christmas Eve midnight, when Mary was expected to pass with her Child. If the baby recovered it was a sign that it had been touched by the Child with healing fingers; if it did not, it was believed that He had called the baby to be His playmate in Heaven.

In the duchy of Swabia girls went to the woodpile on Christmas Eve to draw sticks. If a long one, their future husband would be tall; if a thick one, he would be fat; if crooked, he would also be crooked in figure. If she wanted to determine his business the girl would drop melted lead into a pan of cold water. The lead would congeal into a shape suggesting an occupation. No matter how odd the shape, the old wives would come up with an occupation which seemed to satisfy the girl.

On Christmas Eve a maiden would set a bowl of water outside a window to freeze. The form which the ice took would dictate her future husband's business.

In Northern England girls placed holly under their pillows and chanted:

Good St. Thomas serve me right
And send me my true love tonight
That I may gaze upon his face,
Then him in my fond arms embrace.

Some girls make an indigestible cake of flour, water and salt. They eat this on Christmas Eve and it is expected to make them dream of their future husband.

In Switzerland, if a girl accepts a bunch of Edelweiss at Christmas it is an act of betrothal.

Christmas Has Many Names...

In Greece Christmas is called "Genethlia," feast of the Nativity.

Noel is the term used for Christmas in France.

An Italian name for Christmas is "Nativita" from which probably derived the Spanish "Navidad."

The German "Heilige Nacht" signifies "holy night."

The likeliest derivation of our own "Christmas" is from the Hebrew "mas" which means tribute.

IN THE TRADITION OF CHRISTMAS . . .

Christmas time! That man must be a misanthrope indeed, in whose breast something like a jovial feeling is not aroused — in whose mind some pleasant associations are not awakened — by the recurrence of Christmas. There are people who will tell you that Christmas is not to them what it should be . . .

Never heed such dismal reminiscences . . .

Dwell not upon the past. Reflect upon your present blessings — of which every man has many — not on your past misfortunes, of which all men have some. Fill your glass again, with a merry face and contented heart. Our life on it, but your Christmas shall be merry, and your new year a happy one!

Holiday Moon

A waxing moon is more favorable at Christmas than a waning one, according to an old Scottish folk belief.

Christmas, 1608

"Wind, raine, frost, and snowe caused us to keepe Christmas amongst the Savages, where wee were never more merrie, nor fedde on more plentie of good oysters, fish, flesh, wild foule, and good bread, nor never had better fires in England . . .

So John Smith wrote of the few days he and his men spent with the natives at the end of December 1608 when he was seeking provisions of the Indian chief, Powhatan.

"Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands!"

Light Ye Candles

Then be ye glad, good people,
This night of all the year,
And light ye up your candles,
For His star it shineth clear.
— Old English carol

Save your Christmas cards and give them to the orphanage or church group for children's scrap-books.

Some say that ever 'gainst that season comes,
Wherein our Saviour's birth is celebrated,
The bird of dawning singeth all night long;
And then, they say, no spirit can walk abroad;
The nights are wholesome; then no planets strike,
No fairy takes, no witch hath power to charm;
So hallow'd and gracious is the time.
